1. NAMES and IDENTIFICATION

- a) Preferred name of language for code element denotation:
Madhi Madhi
- b) Autonym (self-name) for this language:
- c) Common alternate names and spellings of language, and any established abbreviations:
Madhimadhi, Madhi-Madhi, Madi Madi, Muthimuthi
- d) Reason for preferred name:
The name "Madhi Madhi" follows the preference of the AUSTLANG database. The "Madhi" spelling may also reduce confusion with the Madi language of Papua New Guinea.
- e) Name and approximate population of ethnic group or community who use this language (complete individual language currently in use):
According to AUSTLANG, this language is apparently extinct.
- f) Preferred three letter identifier, if available: dmd

Your suggestion will be taken into account, but the Registration Authority will determine the identifier to be proposed. The identifier is not intended to be an abbreviation for a name of the language, but to serve as a device to identify a given language uniquely. With thousands of languages, many sets of which have similar names, it is not possible to provide identifiers that resemble a language name in every case.

2. TEMPORAL DESCRIPTION and LOCATION

- a) Is this a
 - ☐ Living language
 - ☐ Nearly extinct/secondary use only (includes languages in revival)
 - ☒ Recently extinct language
 - ☐ Historical language
 - ☐ Ancient language
 - ☐ Artificially constructed language
 - ☐ Macrolanguage

(Select one. See explanations of these types at <http://www.sil.org/iso639%2D3/types.asp>)

For individual languages, also complete:

- b) Countries where used:

Australia

- c) Region within each country: towns, districts, states or provinces where used. Include GPS coordinates of the approximate center of the language, if possible:
According to Hercus, this language was originally spoken between the Murray and the Balranald district of New South Wales and as far north as the Lachlan (1986:101).

Dr. Claire Bovern places this language in New South Wales, Australia, at the following coordinates:

Latitude: -34.23644618

Longitude: 143.6933663

(2010)

To view on a map where this is located, please visit Dr. Bovern's website:

<http://maps.google.com/maps?q=http://pantheon.yale.edu/~clb3/PamaNyungan/CCAL1.2.kmz>

- d) For an ancient or historical language, give approximate time frame; for a recently extinct language, give the approximate date of the last known user's death
Hercus recorded sound recordings with the Madhi Madhi speaker Jack Long in January 1969. The date of the last speaker's death is unknown.

3. MODALITY AND LINGUISTIC AFFILIATION

- a) This language is: ☐ Signed ☒ Spoken ☐ Attested only in writings
- b) Language family, if classified; origin, if artificially constructed:
Pama-Nyungan family, Kulin subgroup
- c) Closest language linguistically. For a Macrolanguage, list the individual languages (adopted and/or proposed) to be included in its group. For signed language, note influence from other signed or spoken languages:
According to Blake and Reid, "Madhi-Madhi, Ledji-Ledji, and Wadi-Wadi share over 80% of vocabulary with one another, which suggests that they might form some kind of group" (1998: 5).

4. LANGUAGE DEVELOPMENT AND USE

- a) What written literature, inscriptions or recordings exist in this language? Are there newspapers, radio or television broadcasts, etc.?:
No literature or inscriptions. Taped transcriptions and field notes, which include song and grammar, are available in the AIATSIS library.

b) Is this language officially recognized by any level of government? Is it used in any levels of formal education as a language of instruction (for other subjects)? Is it taught in schools?:
No

c) Comment on factors of ethnolinguistic identity and informal domains of use:
Unknown
